Mary Immaculate Catholic School dominated the recent Dallas Parochial League Swim Meet, bringing home five team championships. Mary Immaculate beat out North Dallas rivals St. Monica Catholic School and St. Rita Catholic School for the junior varsity girls championship, junior varsity boys championship, junior varsity overall championship, varsity girls championship and varsity overall championship. The 23-member team includes students from Carrollton, Farmers Branch and Coppell.

MIDDLE SCHOOL VOLLEYBALL | BRIEFS

East eighth-grade volleyball

The Coppell Middle School East eighth-grade volleyball A team finished an outstanding season but fell one match short of its district tournament goal, earning second place out of 19 district teams.

After clinching their zone championship, the Lady Broncos competed in the district tournament with high hopes. East beat Pike Middle School to advance to the semifinals, where it faced Coppell Middle School North. The Lady Broncos dropped their first game against North but regrouped during the second game, earning a 30-28 win before finishing off North, 15-8, in the third game.

The win sent East to the district championship match against Coppell Middle School West. East played well but could not finish off either of its two games against West, losing 25-19, 25-21.

Despite the championship loss, the Lady Broncos had a good season, finishing with a 16-2 overall record to go along with title of regular season zone champion and their second place finish in the district. Allie Arnold, Natalie Gilbert, Laura Hogan, Sarah Slover and Jordan Logan were district tournament standouts.

The Lady Broncos started the first game with a commanding 6-1 lead before coming up short. After a slow start to the second game, East fought back to beat Colleyville and send the match to a decisive third game.

The third game saw East fall behind 14-11 before rallying off five consecutive points, led by the serving of Cassidy Cragg, to win the match.

“This was the most proud moment I have had a coach thus far,” East coach Megan Boyd said.

The East seventh-grade C team came up short to Colleyville, 25-11, 25-9, to finish its season with a 4-5 record. The player of the week was Whitney Bras for her serving and passing acumen.

The East seventh-grade B team also fell to Colleyville, 25-0, 25-0. The players of the week were Catherine Connolly and Ashleigh Little.

North eighth-grade volleyball

The Coppell Middle School North eighth-grade volleyball C team clinched an undefeated regular season with a victory over Colleyville Heritage Middle School.

The North squad played opponents from ten schools and participated in one weekend play day against the other Coppell middle schools Sept. 2 through Nov. 1, wrapping up a perfect season.

The team's coaches are Carrie Chordas and Robyn Wallace.
