Silver sweethearts: Girls aid others, earn awards

The girls, all graduates of Mary Immaculate Catholic School, are Sydney Brunel, Audrey Clark, Adrian Collins, Clarissa Dunnam, Francesca Gomez, Lauren Kirch, Maggie Martin, Jessica Mitchell and Sarah Rempe. Students graduate from the Farmers Branch school at the end of their eighth-grade school year.

The Silver Award is the second-highest honor presented by Girl Scouts of the USA and requires three leadership interest projects, 15 hours of leadership experience, a career interest project, self-improvement goal setting, and identification of important community problems and solutions. In addition, the girls must plan and implement a 40-hour service project.

Troop 1121's service project involved assembling newborn welcome baskets for families staying at a Ronald McDonald House. The Cadettes have all been together in the Troop at Mary Immaculate Catholic School since the first grade.
